

DECLUTTERING: For You

Bedrooms & Closets

Pack up winter clothing – Time to bring out your spring/summer clothes and put your sweaters into hibernation

Shoes – Reevaluate your shoe collection. Are you going to wear those shoes you haven't touched in a year? Are these shoes still comfortable?

Underbed storage – Take out and organize everything you have under your bed

Clear surfaces – Do you need all the items that you have out on bookshelves, night stands, desks, etc., right now? Are there items you can toss, donate or recycle?

Basement

Old furniture – Ask yourself if you can part ways with it

Outdated tech – It's time to let go of those old monitors, box TVs, processors and keyboards

Organize – Put away toys, books, etc. in storage bins

Garage

Empty your garage – Take out everything that isn't bolted down and create three piles – Trash, sell/donate and keep. If you haven't used something for 12 months or more, get rid of it. You probably no longer need it.

Utilize wall space – Hang up any power tools, shovels, brooms, etc.

Storage – Label any storage you have such as drawers, cabinets and bins so you can find things easily and keep them organized

Transform – Turn your garage into a makeshift gym or workshop you can use while practicing social distancing
